

Degree & Diploma Programs

There are more than 600 major fields of study in foreign universities at various degree levels - Associate's (2 years), Bachelor's (4 years), Master's (2 years), and Doctoral/Ph.D. (3 to 5 years). The on-campus programs to be offered in India by foreign universities in collaboration with Indian institutions would be degree programs at all levels. Students will receive degrees of the foreign Universities after successful completion of the programs in India. The foreign universities and Indian institutions will administer the degree programs jointly. Indian institutions collaborating with the foreign universities will have world-class facilities such as modern classrooms, state-of-the-art laboratories, audiovisual centers, computerized libraries, video conferencing halls, software development centers, and administrative blocks.

In collaborative Associate and Bachelor degree programs, students who complete 12 (10+2) years of formal education will be eligible for admission. Students with Bachelor's degrees (10+2+4) or (10+2+3) will be eligible for admission to collaborative Master's degree programs. Students with Master's degrees will be eligible for admission to Doctoral/Ph.D. degree programs.

Dual Degree Programs:

Collaborative programs are also sometimes known as Dual Degree programs or Joint Degree programs in India. In these programs, Indian institutions will continue to offer their regular degree programs as per the Indian curricula and give Indian degrees after successful completion. Simultaneously, Indian institutions in collaboration with foreign universities will supplement their existing curricula with the additional curricula of foreign universities. Students who successfully complete the existing curricula and the additional curricula will be given degrees by foreign universities.

AICTE:

Collaborative degree and diploma programs which are technical in nature, namely, Engineering, Architecture, Computer Science, Business, Hotel Management and Catering Technology, Pharmacy, etc., may require the approval of statutory bodies such as the All India Council of Technical Education (AICTE), New Delhi. No Objection Certificate (NOC) will be required from the foreign Embassy for offering collaborative programs in India.

Given below is a list of top foreign Universities visited India, interested in offering their degree and diploma programs in India in Collaboration with well-established Indian institutions. The text used is that of the concerned Universities.
